Mt.Fuji Course (ex.)

115km for 2days

Yamanashi Local Specialty "HOUTOU" noodles

Shiraito Falls
The graceful waterfall, with water cascading down like silken threads, is worth seeing.

Izu Peninsula Course (ex.)

160km for 2days

Mt. Omuro
Mt. Omuro, formed by an eruption about 4,000 years ago, is recognized as a component of the UNESCO World Geopark.

✓ DAY1 5.5 hours

The course passes through spots with scenic views including Mt. Fuji, and other lakes, and through quiet forests. This approximately 70-km course passes by Lake Yamanaka, one of the Fuji Five Lakes, as well as other lakes, along forest roads and through quiet forests.

✓ DAY2 4 hours

The course offers a completely different view from DAY 1, with the best views being Suruga Bay seen in the distance from the top of the mountain, and the soft-serve ice cream at the ranch is the best.

✓ DAY1 6.5 hours

Mt.Fuji, the highest mountain in Japan, and Suruga Bay, the deepest bay in Japan, can be seen from the Nishi-Izu Skyline, a popular touring route for cyclists. This course is rich in ups and downs.

✓ DAY2 5.5 hours

Day 2, it is a cycling tour with a view of the sea. The Seven Izu Islands can be seen in the distance. In the latter half of the day, as you head inland, you will see Mt. Omuro, which was created by a volcano. The goal of the tour is to pass through the good old satoyama of Japan.

Mt.Fuji and Suruga Bay, delicious meals and baths, and more! It is a great way to relax and heal your body after a long day of cycling!
